Pastor's Corner

Dear Parishioners,

I hope you had a happy time with family and friends over these past few weeks of the Christmas and New Year's Season. Now it's back to school and to the normal routine of our regular work schedule and to the meetings and activities and groups that we are a part of. The holidays are great, but there is something to be said for the regularity of our normal days and nights, and I for one am happy to get back to the routine.

This week our RCIA and Prep classes resume, as well as the meetings and special Masses for our First Communion children and parents. We are also going to begin the practice of having the rcia group come for the Liturgy of the Word at Sunday Mass and then be dismissed to spend the rest of the Mass time opening up that same Word as a group for deeper reflection and discussion. This becomes a means by which our candidates learn more personally how the Word of God is addressed to them and how they might respond in a manner that deepens and strengthens their relationship with the Lord and his Church.

Today we hear the story of the 3 Magi that find the child Jesus and lay their gifts before him. These are not toys or pj's for a child, but rather very expensive gifts that reflect the honor and esteem they wish to demonstrate. Traditionally they were deemed to be the means by which Joseph could provide for his family as they had to escape the clutches of King Herod and his soldiers and escape into Egypt in order to protect Jesus from harm.

And now centuries later Christians the world over are acting in a similar way by sharing their gifts to honor the Lord and to protect his body the Church from the violence of non-believers. We are still witnessing the persecution of the Church in many parts of the world and we still need to protect those who flee from tyranny. The feast of the Epiphany is a reminder that things haven't changed that much over the centuries, and the Lord still needs our gifts in the mission of bringing salvation to the world.

Have a good week,

Fr. Dion

Please help us to warmly welcome

Bev Anchikoski, our newly hired Youth & Young Adult Ministry Coordinator, to the parish. She will be responsible for the full development and delivery of the Parish's Youth and Young Adult Discipleship Process. We are looking forward to having her build on the youth and young adult programs we have currently. Please provide her your support and prayers.

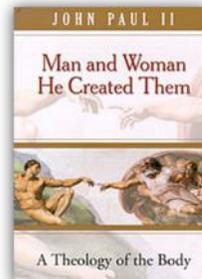

Hi, I'm Bev ~ I'm 25 years old. I have an Degree in Philosophy, Faith and Culture. I have served as a missionary with: CCO-Impact Halifax, NET Ministries of Ireland, and Lifeteen-Hidden Lake Summer Camp, throughout the years.

Howard Thurman once said, "Don't ask yourself what the world needs; ask yourself what makes you come alive. Because what the world needs are people who have come alive!" So I took the chance, left my former employment and applied for this position because this is what makes me come alive. And the rest you could say was God's will.

STARTS TOMORROW!

POPE JOHN PAUL II'S THEOLOGY OF THE BODY

Who am I? Why do I exist? What will make me happy? Do I matter? These eternal questions determine how we live and what we love. They shape the choices we make, the work we do and the time we spend.

They give life, and they take life. That is why it's imperative that we find the right answers, and not just good answers, but true answers that always and everywhere give peace, happiness and life.

Given to us by Pope John Paul II, the Theology of the Body is the Catholic vision of what it means to be a human person, made in the image and likeness of God. It conveys the ancient truths of the faith in a new, accessible and relatable way, and it is renewing marriages, awakening vocations, healing deep personal wounds, and setting people free to live the life of greatness to which we are all called. This complete course is being offered on starting tomorrow, January 7th. It's not too late to register!

11 Monday evenings in Good Shepherd Church

SOLEMNITY OF THE EPIPHANY OF THE LORD ~ HOMILY BY POPE FRANCIS
Papal Mass at the Vatican Basilica ~ 6 January 2018 w2.vatican.va

Three actions of the Magi guide our journey towards the Lord, who today is revealed as light and salvation for all peoples. The Magi see the star, they set out and they bring gifts.

Seeing the star. This is where it starts. But why did the Magi alone see the star? Perhaps because few people raised their eyes to heaven. We often make do with looking at the ground, i.e. it's enough to have our health, a little money and a bit of entertainment. I wonder if we still know how to look up at the sky - to dream, to long for God, to expect the newness he brings, or do we let ourselves be swept along by life, like dry branches before the wind? The Magi were not content with just getting by; they understood that to truly live, we need to keep looking up.

Yet we can also ask why, among all those who looked up at the heavens, so many others did not follow that star. Perhaps because the star was not eye-catching, did not shine any brighter than other stars. The Gospel tells us that it was a star that the Magi saw "at its rising" (Mt 2:9). Jesus' star does not dazzle or overwhelm, but gently invites. We may ask ourselves what star we have chosen to follow in our lives.

Some stars may be bright, but they do not point the way. So it is with success, money, career, honours and pleasures when these become our life. They are meteors: they blaze momentarily, but then quickly burn out and their brilliance fades. They are shooting stars that mislead rather than lead. The Lord's star, however, may not always overwhelm by its brightness, but it is always there, ever kindly: it takes you by the hand in life and accompanies you. It does not promise material reward, but ensures peace and grants, as it did to the Magi, "exceedingly great joy" (v.10). But it also tells us to set out.

Setting out, the second thing the Magi do, is essential if we are to find Jesus. His star demands a decision to take up the journey and to advance tirelessly on our way. It demands that we free ourselves from useless burdens and unnecessary extras that only prove a hindrance, and accept unforeseen obstacles along the map of life. Jesus allows himself to be found by those who seek him, but to find him we need to get up and go, take risks.

Jesus makes demands: he tells those who seek him to leave behind the armchair of worldly comforts and the reassuring warmth of hearth and home. God, who set his people free in the exodus and called new peoples to follow his star, grants freedom and joy always and only in the course of a journey. In other words, if we want to find Jesus, we have to overcome our fear of taking risks, our self-satisfaction and our indolent refusal to ask anything more of life. We need to take risks simply to meet a Child. Yet those risks are immensely worth the effort, since in finding that Child, in discovering his tenderness and love, we rediscover ourselves.

Setting out is not easy. The Gospel shows us this through a cast of characters. There is Herod, wild with fear that the birth of a king will threaten his power. So he organizes meetings and sends people out to gather information, yet he himself does not budge; he stays locked up in his palace. Even "all Jerusalem" (v. 3) is afraid of the new things God is bringing about. They want everything to remain as it was - that is the way it has always been - no one has the courage to leave. The temptation of the priests and scribes is more subtle: they know the exact place and tell it to Herod, quoting the ancient prophecy. They know, but they themselves make no move towards Bethlehem. Theirs can be the temptation of those who are used to being believers: they can talk at length about the faith they know so well, but will not take a personal risk for the Lord. They talk, but do not pray; they complain, but do no good. The Magi, on the other hand, ignorant of the truths of faith, they are filled with longing and set out. So the Gospel tells us: They "came to worship him" (v. 2); "they set out; they went in, and fell down and worshiped him; they went back" (vv. 9, 11, 12). They kept moving.

Bringing gifts. Having come to Jesus after a long journey, the Magi do as he does: they bring gifts. Jesus is there to give his life; they offer him their own costly gifts: gold, incense and myrrh. The Gospel becomes real when the journey of life ends in giving. To give freely, for the Lord's sake, without expecting anything in return: this is the sure sign that we have found Jesus. For he says: "The gift you have received, give freely as a gift" (Mt 10:8). To do good without counting the cost, even when you gain nothing, even if it is unpleasant. That is what God wants. He, who become small for our sake, asks us to offer something for the least of his brothers and sisters...they are those who have nothing to give in return, the needy, the hungry, the stranger, the prisoner. We give a gift pleasing to Jesus when we care for a sick person, spend time with a difficult person, help someone for the sake of helping, or forgive someone who has hurt us. Jesus reminds us that if we only love those who love us back, we only do as the pagans do (Mt 5:46-47).

Dear brothers and sisters, let us imitate the Magi: looking upwards, setting out, and freely offering our gifts.

A note from the Parish Office regarding:

Offering Envelopes

Offering envelopes are mailed to registered parishioners quarterly by a third party envelope company, primarily because we have 3 churches, making it challenging to determine where parishioners worship for their envelopes to be picked up. Sometimes, parishioners report that they have not received their quarterly envelope mailout (you should have received your January/February/March envelopes by now) - we ask that you please let the Parish Office know so the envelope company can resend a set to you.

Remember that if you forget to bring your offering envelope to Mass, you may use the PINK VISITOR envelope (or any generic envelope) as long as you print your full name legibly on the envelope so that your offering can be credited to your account.

Perpetual Adoration Chapel

A very heartfelt THANK YOU to all of you who answered the Lord's call over these past weeks to fill in at the adoration chapel.

We invite you to continue to visit Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament. Come and pray . . . recite your favorite prayers, do some meditative reading, or just bask in the healing rays of Jesus before you.

St. John of the Cross said, "One moment of pure love is more precious in the eyes of God and more profitable to the whole Church than all the good works put together." Imagine what an hour can do! Allow Jesus to work through you.

Addressing the Clerical Sexual Abuse

Presenter: Jean-Luc Padley

With the recent revelations of sexual abuse as well as cover-ups at some of the highest levels in the Church, it is important to understand how certain Churchmen have failed, how the Church has responded properly, and what still needs to be done to bring perpetrators to justice and to provide support to victims. With this information and using the Catholic Voices method, we will be able to answer the question, "Why has it taken so long for the Church to take clerical sexual abuse seriously?" in a way that sheds light and avoids generating heat in discussions with family, friends and professional associates.
