Dear Parishioners,

Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time —January 28, 2024

Thank you to those who have already purchased tickets to our Centenary Dinner and Concert on Saturday, February 17th. I hope many of you will come and enjoy a wonderful evening together as a parish family. The cost of your ticket helps our parish recover some of the costs associated with this event. If you missed getting your ticket after Mass this weekend, they are available during the week at the parish office and if we are not sold out, they will also be available next weekend (Feb 3 & 4) after Mass as well.

And again if you are willing to volunteer on the evening of Feb 17th, please let my office staff know to count you in.

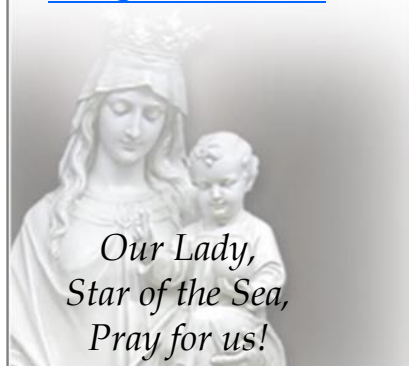

This Sunday at the 11am Mass, I am so very pleased to commission a group of young people who have been training as servers at the altar of our Lord, under the guidance Mr. Billy Wong. They are:

Ryan Allen from Star of the Sea School
Faustina Bellosillo from St. Matthew Elementary school
Abigail Cheng from Star of the Sea School
Ben Dagenais from Star of the Sea School
Makena Dixon from Star of the Sea School
Jane Kim from Star of the Sea School
Jayden Kim from Star of the Sea School
Leo King from Star of the Sea School
Elizabeth Kuo from Star of the Sea School
Hector Fregoso from Star of the Sea School
Yuanna Lai from Star of the Sea School
Aaliyan Malazarte from Star of the Sea School
Ethan Paulo Paderog from Star of the Sea School
Kristian Pavlovic from Star of the Sea School
Lorenzo Ponce de Leon from Star of the Sea School
Caleb Rivett from Star of the Sea School
Markus Wu from Vancouver College
Halyn Yu from Star of the Sea School

I am so proud of these young people who are growing in respect and love for the Lord and for others. Committing to this training takes time and commitment and I recognize this as a sacrifice of love by the whole family—and so, I also want to thank the parents. This experience of altar serving will open treasures and graces from the Lord for your family, and it will no doubt be a cherished memory in your child's life. Thank you, parents.

For those who attend the 11am Sunday Mass, you would have noticed a group of catechumens who are preparing for Baptism being 'dismissed' after the homily. These catechumens are part of our Chinese RCIA group who have been meeting every Sunday for catechesis. We also have another bigger group on Wednesday evenings who are preparing for baptism and full communion with the Catholic Church. I bring this to your attention as a way of reminding you that in our parish, RCIA is run all-year-round; meaning that if you or someone you know wants to find out more about "Becoming Catholic", please do not wait until September. Contact Janice at the parish office now to find out the first steps to "Becoming Catholic".

Fr. Augustine

This Sunday's Mass Readings:

Reading 1: Deuteronomy 18:15–20

Psalm: Psalm 95:1–2, 6–9

Reading 2: 1 Corinthians 7:32–35

Gospel: Mark 1:21–28

BENEDICT XVI ANGELUS, 1st February 2009 <https://www.vatican.va>

A unique characteristic of the Gospel of Mark is what is called the "messianic secret": namely, the fact that for the moment, Jesus does not want it to be known outside the small group of his disciples that he is the Christ, the Son of God. Over and over again in the earlier part of the Gospels, he warns his disciples to keep his identity from being revealed until the right time; which at the end of the Gospels, Jesus will reveal publicly in his trial before Caiaphas and the Sanhedrin. In today's Gospel passage, Jesus silences a man possessed by the devil who suddenly shouts: "What have you to do with us, Jesus of Nazareth? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are, the Holy One of God" (Mark 1: 24). And Jesus commands the spirit: "Quiet! Come out of him!" (v 25) And immediately, Mark the Evangelist notes the unclean spirit, with excruciating cries, came out of that man. Jesus not only drives demons out of people, freeing them from the worst slavery, but prevents the demons themselves from revealing his identity. And he insists on this "secret" because what is at stake is the success of his very mission, on which our salvation depends. Indeed, he knows that to liberate humanity from the dominion of sin he will have to be sacrificed on the Cross as the true Paschal Lamb. The devil, for his part, seeks to dissuade him so as to divert him instead toward the human logic of a powerful and successful Messiah. The Cross of Christ will be the devil's ruin, and this is why Jesus always taught his disciples that in order to enter into his glory he must suffer much, he must be rejected, condemned and crucified (cf. Lk 24: 26), for suffering is an integral part of his mission.

Jesus suffered and died on the Cross for love. It was in this way that he gave meaning to our suffering, a meaning that many men and women of every age have understood and made their own, experiencing profound tranquillity even in the bitterness of harsh physical and moral trials... [This Pro-Life Day 2009], the theme that the Italian Bishops have chosen is "The strength of life in suffering". In these words is seen the courage in proclaiming the truth—the courage to say clearly, for example, that euthanasia is a false solution to the drama of suffering, a solution unworthy of man. Indeed, the true response cannot be to put someone to death, however "kindly", but rather to witness to the love that helps people to face their pain and agony in a human way. We can be certain that no tear, neither of those who are suffering nor of those who are close to them, is lost before God.

The Virgin Mary kept her Son's secret in her maternal heart and shared in the painful hour of the passion and crucifixion, sustained by her hope in the Resurrection. Let us entrust to her the people who are suffering and those who work every day to support them, serving life in all of its phases: parents, health care workers, priests, religious, researchers, volunteers and many others. Let us pray for them all.

This is what the Catechism of the Catholic Church has to say about the exorcisms of Jesus as they are recounted in the Gospels:

The coming of God's kingdom means the defeat of Satan's: "If it is by the Spirit of God that I cast out demons, then the kingdom of God has come upon you." [Matt 12:26] Jesus' exorcisms free some individuals from the domination of demons. They anticipate Jesus' great victory over "the ruler of this world." [John 12:31] The kingdom of God will be definitively established through Christ's cross: "God reigned from the wood." CCC 550

Notice three key things. First, that when Jesus preaches the coming of the kingdom of God, that's not just a pretty metaphor for going to heaven after you die. What he's talking about is the in-breaking of God's dominion, God's authority, God's power, and God's kingdom, into a world which is dominated not by God, and governed not by God, but by the power of Satan, by the power of evil, by the power of demonic forces, that would separate human beings from God. There's a spiritual battle: two kingdoms at war—the kingdom of God and the kingdom of Satan. And Jesus' ministry means that the kingdom of Satan is coming to an end, that's why the demon says to him, "have you come to destroy us?" Secondly, Jesus' exorcisms are a sign that the kingdom of God has come upon you, meaning his exorcisms aren't just him putting on a show, they're meant to point to the reality of the coming of that kingdom. And thirdly, the Catechism says that Jesus' exorcisms of particular individuals who were under the power of demonic forces point to his ultimate victory over the prince of this world, or the ruler of this world, which is on the cross, because effectively what Jesus is going to do on the cross is break the power of Satan by taking death upon himself and then freeing humanity from death through his resurrection.

Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion

Extra-Ordinary Ministers of Holy Communion are those parishioners who have the privilege of serving, distributing and administering the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ alongside the priest celebrant at Mass.
These Eucharistic Ministers are called not only to minister the Body and Blood of Christ, but to have and maintain a strong faith, a sense of awe, and an inclusiveness of others as the foundation for this ministry. Eucharistic Ministers may also be asked to bring Holy Communion to people within the parish community who are sick and/or homebound.

Come consider this important ministry—you are invited to a workshop on Saturday, Mar 9th at Good Shepherd Church.
